

Network AV Lobby display

Now, you can use a lobby display or any digital sign to share content and collaborate on the fly. The DM® network AV infrastructure makes it easy. Simply plug in your laptop or tablet and it automatically switches from the network-based content to your local source for impromptu sessions.

The new DM-DGE-200-C provides a powerful, low-cost network AV solution for digital signage applications in lobbies and other common areas. Built-in auto-switching between an HDMI® and 4K/60 DM® input on the DM-DGE-200-C enables a local HD video source to be connected, scaled, and displayed, no matter how you want to connect.
